

Louis plays a joke on his friend.

Louis was a spotty green frog who had lots of friends. One of them was Olly the Octopus. One play time at school Olly was practising doing his top dance while Louis was eating a delicious banana. Suddenly Olly felt something slimy fall down his back and saw it fall to the floor. It was a banana skin! Olly turned around to pace Louis but he slipped on the banana skin and fell on to his bottom with all eight legs up in the air. Louis was so busy laughing he didn't notice Olly creep up behind him. He shouted 'BOO!' and made Louis jump. The two friends laughed until it was time to go back into their classroom. They always had lots of fun.
