

Louis

On a hot sunny day in London Louis the spotty frog hopped to the park, he saw a beautiful blue shimmering pond and decided to have a dip after his long hop. There were two children at the park called Josh and Lily. They were sitting on the swings looking sad. Josh spots Louis hopping into the pond, so the children ran over to the pond.

Louis asked the children why they were looking so sad. The children said that they had lost their magic key. "I'll help you find it," said Louis hopping from one pool to the other. Louis hops onto Lily's hand and the children set off.

To find it first they looked in the museum but they didn't find it but they saw the London Eye. Josh saw the key in the middle of the Eye then they went home to tell their mum and dad so the Spotty Green Frog went home to clean his garden.
