

Louis the spotty green frog a mystery story

“Have you put in the sugar, eggs and flour Tracy” said Louis. “yep” said Tracy the tarantula, “cool,” “I will just nip to town and get some spices from the market” Louis said “okay” Tracy sighed. (Tracy was very tired). She went into the living in the garden and lay down on a leaf. Leaving the cookie dough on its own. Titch the thief came and quietly stole the dough and takes it to his lair.

Chapter 2

Titch’s secret lair

Suddenly Tracy got up and saw Titch running away but he ran right into Louis who was coming back with the spices. Hey give that dough back he said, but Titch was getting away. So the friends chased him all round town three times, then they had to chase him into the woods where Titch had a dark lair but before they could catch him he had scampered into the lair. Louis and Tracy tried to follow Titch (it was very hard in the dark.) But Louis found a torch in his pocket. Louis and Tracy had to sneak round a poisonous snake, tunnel under a colossal wall and jump over a small bog. Until they finally found Titch with the cookie dough and they snatched the dough off Titch and forced him to admit to the police that he stole the cookie dough. So Titch got chucked in jail.

Chapter 3

Time to make cookies

Louis and Tracy put the dough in the oven and made ten fabulous cookies and ate five each, after that they had a snooze.

By Samuel Burkitt

