

Louis the spotty green frog-mystery story

One special day Louis was cooking his speciality meal, fried, flies, but suddenly he got carried away, to a strange forest. It was damp, shadowy, and gloomy and it had tall grass. The forest was damper than ever, strangely enough, he saw a black walking mountain. So he went towards it, and started to investigate on it till the night, (where ever dinog went he went but it was no walking mountain it was Dinog the dog) The next day he investigated again soon enough he found out that it was a dog. He jumped up in fright and went to camouflage, and slept,(early in the morning.)He climbed up dinogs leg and went on his nose and said," hello"(in fright) and dinog said," hello, why are you so slimy" Louis replied, "I don't know" Louis said "do you bite" Louis said," No of cause not, do you" Lois said, " When people annoy me, apart from that, no" so they were friends, and none of them bite none kicked none of them fell out and know one swore and know one punched they were just friends. One bright morning dinog said," Do you want to go back home" Louis replied, "Ok" so Dinog piggybacked Louis to his home. They're still alive now so if you see a dog with a frog on its back say hello it might be Dinog and Louis.
