Louis, Spott, Hippi, Duck, and the big day out

One day there was a frog called Louis. He has a friend called Duck, Spott the dog and Hippi the cat. They all called each other. Louis the frog ran from his house to the post office.

Duck was walking along with a plastic bag with shopping inside. Spott was chasing Hippi the cat. Louis walked over to Duck, they both watched Spott and Hippi, and laughed.

Duck wanted to play it, but Louis didn't know how to, so Hippi and Spott taught him and then they all found out that they were tired so they all went home to go to sleep. Louis the frog thought what wonderful friends he had.
