

Louis the frog

Louis has lots of friends.

In the town of Froggy there was a country fair going on at about 3.30 and all frogs from across the bogs had come to see their best friend sing. Can you guess who that friend was? You can't! Well that is a real surprise. The best friend is "Louis the frog".

"Come on hurry up hurry up I want to hear my best friend sing. Who do we want to see?!"

"Louis, Louis, Louis!" And if you think that is annoying try listning to it for 3 and a 1/2 hrs.

WHILE ALL THIS RACKET WAS GOING ON, Louis tried to contact his manager who is in the bogs of the hinter lands. "Help me boss, what do I do, I cannot stop all this racket on my own it would ruin my voice, what shall I do?"

"Take your mobile up to the microphone and let me do my job. But remember that when they are quiet hang up the phone, throw it to the stage manager, and then sing like never before!"

"Ok boss anything you say."

"Let me do my singing now otherwise you will not get free tickets I may be beautiful but I can also have my way, when I want my way!"

Now that really shut them up and he has a good singing career but for some reason his friends act like he is not there.
