

Louis the Frog Plays a Trick

Louis the Frog was bored. He was sitting at his desk with a navy blue fountain pen in his shining green hand, not knowing what to do next. He thought he might play a trick on his friends, like he had done this morning and many other times.

He phoned up his cousins the Minnows,
“Would you mind playing a trick on my friends with me?” he asked.

“No, we love playing tricks on the frogs,” they replied.
Louis then wrote a letter to his friends the frogs.

At five am the frogs came to the pond and jumped with excitement into the water thinking of delicious Minnow Pizza. The Minnows, who knew they were coming and darted away as fast as lightening before they did get turned into Minnow Pizza.

Louis laughed so much that he fell into the water.
