Louis the frog plays a joke

One afternoon Louis the friendly, cheeky, funny, happy, kind, playful, beloved frog went to the park with his best friend, Sam the toad. Sam was always happy, even if he'd fallen over and hurt himself. They played tig. After that, when they were sitting down ... "Boo!" shouted Louis, hoping to make his friend jump. But he didn't, he just laughed at him. Then Sam said "I know let's play tig again."

Although Louis was tired he carried on playing until it was dark. Soon their Mums were there. Before they got there, they went around the corner. Louis was frightened. Had his Mum forgotten about him? About five minutes later his Mum came back with a bag. She was chatting to Sam's mum. Louis ran to her and hugged her. Sam's mum said Sam could go to Louis house and play.

At Louis house, Louis put a fake eyeball down on the floor. He closed one eye and called his mum. His mum looked at him and said "Very funny louis." With that she walked off. Louis thought she would be shocked. Suddenly she came back out and gave Louis a bag of sweets and said "It's for sharing with Sam."

"Thankyou," replied Louis. Louis and Sam gobbled up all the sweets in one minute. "I want to play a trick on someone but I can't, they're not scared." Louis said. "Can you help?"

"Ok," said Sam, "I've got a trick I've been dying to try out for ages. It goes like this. I have some rope and tie it to something strong and you hold the other end. When you see someone coming, pull the rope."

"What happens?" asked Louis with admiration.

"They fall over the rope," replied Sam.

"Good joke!" said Louis. "I want to try it out now."

So Sam and Louis charged downstairs, they set it up as fast as lightening.

Ten minutes later, Sam's mum came out and called "Sam!" Sam hopped out of the living room, the other side of the rope where the door was. Suddenly ... caboom! Sam's mum fell over the rope. Sam, Louis and Sam's mum were shocked but Sam's mum burst into cries of laughter. Sam's mum, Sam and Louis were almost dying of laughter. So Sam told Louis all his jokes and tricks to play.

The end

Abigail White Y3