Louis the frog - a mystery

Long, long ago there was a mystery. There was a frog who had three spots on his face. His name was Louis. He had a mystery on New Year's Eve. He had a notebook to write the mystery down in his notebook. Guess what? The mystery was in London, in the Tower of London. He got to work, he got a camera and notepad and sharp pen and he was ready to go on the mission to London.

The car chase was on. He went to the Tower. Louis took a picture for the photo album, for the mystery, Louis was in the museum. He saw a man taking a girl away. He took a picture and wrote it in his notebook and he got a net to trap the man who took the girl away. So he made a trap to the pond on the lily pads. Louis said "Someone's coming!" Boom! Boom, splash, boom, splash, slash! "Hey you are trapped in my net!" He took a picture and Louis and Mary had the best New Year ever and they had a happy ending.
