Louis plays a Joke

Once upon a time there was an ordinary frog called Louis. He has three freckles on his face. He is always cheerful and calm with everybody. He's very kind but not cheeky. He's very, very spotty. He is very very, very nice and he has a friend called Bob.

One sunny day Louis was looking at the calendar. Then he went his bedroom and had a little nap for an hour or two. He had just woken up when the telephone rang. He went to the phone and picked it up and spoke to Bob. His friend Bob said do you want to come round? And Louis said yes please so Louis hopped off to Bob's house

When Louis got there. Bob asked if Louis wanted to go outside okay. When Louis went on the trampoline Bob put custard in Louis coat and shoes on and got stuck in them. Bob turned round and said "Ha, ha! I tricked you!"

He went home and had a good time in his bedroom. He went downstairs and said sorry. They lived happily ever after with his friend.
