Louis in Figure 1 and a second control of the second control of th

One day there was a frog called Louis He was a very clever frog and he lived with his mum and brother. He had a friend called Freddie the fox. One sunny summer day Louis was sunbathing on his lily pad. Then he heard his brother shouting his name "yes" Louis answered "you have to go with me and mum to the boat""O.K but wait a minute" said Louis, while he went to his secret agent H.Q and found out the main criminal was evil Doctor Cockroach. Then he went to his brother.

"Wait"!! called a familiar voice it was Freddie the fox "what is it?" asked Louis

"It's my ornaments (the priceless ones)they're gone!"
"Who took them? I was in all day"

"Do you want to come with us?" asked Louis' brother "yes I do"

"O.K hop in." They went on and on and on ,until they saw bows and arrows hitting their boat. "Its evil doctor cockroach and his army of cockroaches!"

"Hop on" said Louis holding his jet pack "I hope this is safe?" asked Louis' brother. Bang, they were off, the evil doctor had no chance.

They flew straight at him and hit him in the belly. "Put the ornaments down" said Louis moving forward "Never" said the evil doctor moving backward

"Put the ornaments down" said Louis moving forward. Naaaaaarrrrrggggg! said the evil doctor falling backward into the water. But the evil doctor had another trick up his sleeve. He had laser glasses and cut the boat in half then got in his submarine and went away.

"Not so fast Mr." said Louis while he jumped on the submarine. Bang it smashed! Louis got the ornament and swam up while Doctor Cockroach sank to his doom. Then Louis gave it to his Friend and they never saw Doctor Cockroach again.

"Now I know how he did it! He can take the shape of people if he saw them. He can't look like them." said Loius.
