

Louis and the mystery

Once there was a frog called Louis. He was a cheeky frog with freckles, green skin, toffee coloured eyes and duck like feet.

His mum had spots all over and she was yellow with sky blue eyes and feet like fish fins. They lived happily at the bottom of the pond.

One day Louis and his mum went on holiday to pond-land on a Lily cruise. Louis and his mum went everywhere together even when Louis wanted to play in the pond .Louis mum was very protective of him after his dad got killed.

While they were sleeping someone stole Louis's mum's diamond and ruby necklace. When Louis woke up he found his mum's necklace in his lily pad. Louis couldn't think! Louis thought, I didn't steal the necklace, I didn't steal the necklace, I was asleep, someone else stole the necklace and I'm going to find out who it was.

The next night Louis stayed up all night. At 9 o'clock someone came on Louis lily pad and took the diamond ruby necklace. Louis leapt up to see the animal who stole the necklace was Robert the rat! He was always taking stuff. "Guess who it is?" said Louis. He grabbed the necklace and he was happy and lived happily ever after.
